Founded in 1994 and awarded the University title in 2016, The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK) is a publicly funded university, dedicated to the advancement of teacher education and related disciplines through a diverse offering of academic, professional and research programmes. Approaching its 30th anniversary, the University aspires to become a leading university in the Asia Pacific region and beyond, with a focus on educational and multidisciplinary research, development and innovation. We are committed to nurturing outstanding and caring educators and professionals as well as enhancing the impact of scholarship.

The University has an academic/teaching staff strength of about 450 and total student headcount of about 11,000. It has a Graduate School and three Faculties, namely, Faculty of Education and Human Development, Faculty of Humanities, and Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, comprising 15 academic departments, as well as a number of University-level research centres and Faculty-level research and professional development centres and academies. For more information about the University, please visit http://www.eduhk.hk.

To continue pursuing excellence in the advancement of knowledge, scholarship and innovation through high quality research, we are seeking enthusiastic and highly dedicated academics to join the University in support of its strategic development in diverse areas.

Assistant Professor (Two posts) (Ref: 2400162)
Centre for Learning, Teaching and Technology

The appointee is responsible for conducting high-quality research and teaching, leading project development and knowledge transfer activities, and assisting to develop curriculum activities and to supervise students at all levels. Specific responsibilities include:

- Conducting research in Human-centric Artificial Intelligence for Education and other disciplines as the primary duty;
- Pursuing external research grants, such as General Research Fund, Early Career Scheme, Innovation and Technology Fund and other competitive external fund, as Principal Investigator or Co-Investigator;
- Undertaking teaching duties at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels, and/or supervision of postgraduate students;
- Assisting in developing curriculum activities for the undergraduate and postgraduate programmes;
- Leading the project development and knowledge transfer at the Centre for Learning, Teaching and Technology, working closely with the Director;
- Developing and maintaining strategic partnerships with stakeholders both Faculties and Departments within the University, and external parties including but not limited to donors and service users; and
- Undertaking any duties as assigned by the Director or his/her delegates.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree in Data Science, Computer Science, Information Technology, Artificial Intelligence, Educational Technology, or a closely related discipline with expertise in data science or artificial intelligence. They should be active researchers with a growing publication record, be able to continue conducting research that attracts competitive external funding and leads to publications in top-tier international journals and conferences. They should be fluent in English with some knowledge of Cantonese and/or Mandarin Chinese and the educational context of Hong Kong and/or China. Preference will be given to those with professional experience in industrial/commercial/public sectors with proven project records. Candidates with post-qualification teaching experience in the tertiary education sector and commitment to high-quality teaching would also be highly valued.

For information on the Centre for Learning, Teaching and Technology, please visit this website: https://www.lttc.eduhk.hk/.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract. Fringe benefits include the University's Voluntary Contributions to MPF Scheme or a contract-end lump sum payment (totaling up to 15% of the basic salary), leave, medical and dental benefits, and, where applicable, housing benefits.

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for this post. Applicants should complete the online application form and upload a full CV. Review of applications will start from 23 February 2024, and will continue until the post is filled. Applications which are incomplete or without the required documents may not be considered. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes. For details of the Personal Information Collection Statement, please refer to http://www.eduhk.hk/jobsopp/index.php?glang=en.

All applications will be treated in strict confidence. Only those who are shortlisted will be contacted. The University reserves the right not to fill the position(s) advertised. Since the incumbent's work would involve contacts with persons aged under 18 and/or mentally incapacitated persons, prospective employee(s) will be required to undergo Sexual Conviction Record Check operated by the Hong Kong Police Force.

EdUHK is an Equal Opportunities Employer.